Relational Riding A Universal Foundation

In this new DVD, ARIA certified instructor Michelle Binder utilizes a multi-disciplinary approach to riding and training that teaches concepts critical to the proper development of the lower-level dressage horse. The forward downward stretch is clarified and presented as the foundation on which all competitive work is built whether you ride dressage, hunters or eventers. Unique camera angles and visual effects are combined with live teaching segments, exercises and interesting voice-overs designed to help you think, ride and train your horse in a new way.

“This video does an outstanding job of introducing biomechanics and dressage in a way that any rider can learn to apply the concepts to any discipline or riding style.”
- Donna Longacre, USEF “R” Judge in Dressage
USEF Recognized Judge in Western and Arabian Divisions

“An amazing fundamental explanation of the biomechanics of the horse that could benefit all riders and trainers.”
- Janis M. Linnan, FEI Eventing Judge
